EMMERICH MANUAL HIGH SCHOOL
Indianapolis, Indiana

The Many Moods of Manual

Through the corridors of Emmerich Manual High School many contrasting moods combine to create the "image" of our school. The excitement of the first day, the thrill of winning a close game, the burden of a seemingly never-ending flow of assignments, the friendliness of a club meeting—all are a part of our school lives. The helpfulness of a teacher at a conference, the enthusiasm of our parents for P-TA and Dads Club activities, and the loyalty and devotion of our alumni to our now 70-year-old school help create the moods which make up the atmosphere of Manual.

Manualites like Cheerleader Captain Linda Harkness, performing at a pep session during football season, stimulate gay, exciting moods. Helpful teachers like Miss Dorothy Robertson, having a conference with Dan Kraus to explain a difficult assignment, make school more pleasant.

Nancy Kidd and Ron McBride, in a holiday mood, put the finishing touches on the traditional Junior Class Christmas tree, located in the main entrance hall.

Once a Redskin, always a Redskin applies to Manual's Alumni. The annual Pow Wow brings many grads to visit their alma mater, as well as future Manualites.

Varied Moods of Manualites Run the Gamut

Those important IBM slips, grade cards, create wide reactions as dramatized by Dan Ryan and Bev Boyd.

All smiles as they follow our Rarin' Redskins, Bill Glass and Bonnie Roe purchase basketball tickets from Mrs. Dorothy Thomas in the bookstore.

Moms and Dads help our moods at football and basketball games by providing refreshment stands where we can appease our seemingly endless appetites. A steaming hot-dog on a cold night? Perfect!

Classroom Activities Make Us Sensitive To Need for Education

The elation of receiving an "A" on a research paper or the frustration of being burdened with a very difficult homework assignment are among the many varieties of moods which Manualites experience.

The English Department contributes to the literary and grammatical development of the students. The works of great writers of the past, as well as contemporaries, enrich the minds of pupils from freshmen to seniors. Manual offers French, Latin, and Spanish to those interested in foreign languages and cultures. The collection of tape recordings by native Frenchmen and Spaniards are helpful aids in practicing everyday conversation.

Learning the many properties of the elements, studying the functions of animal and plant organisms, and examining the earth's crust were among the many activities of science classes this year. The Math Department buzzed with activity as pupils pursued courses from general math to calculus.

The Home Economics Department gave girls examples of the future in such classes as Home Management, cooking, and Home Nursing. Not to be forgotten is the Boys' Foods class, which gave Manual's "chefs" an opportunity to display their culinary skills.

Industrial Arts offered students vocational training in auto, metal, wood, and printing shops.

Seniors Margaret Goebel and Loretta Magill hurriedly "cram" for a test before entering their classroom.

Government and Economics students "marked" their ballots for the candidates of their choice as election year brought mock elections to Manual.

On warm spring and fall days, art classes take their drawing boards and stools to the campus to sketch. Art Production designed senior arm bands, Redskin Revue programs, and posters for numerous occasions.

Music classes were a welcome change to school book routines for the music-minded. Theory classes studied the principles of different types of music.

The Business Department offered various office training courses for future businessmen and women.

To understand each other and the world is our high goal of education. Curriculum and activities blend to set the moods for our daily lives.

The library provides a convenient, pleasant place for study and research, attracting Manualites throughout the day. Teachers as well as students find it well equipped with reading and reference materials for special assignments.

Speech classes provide numerous situations for practicing oral speech and interpretation. Among these are panel discussions through which prepared and extemporaneous materials are presented. Jerry Shands, Diane Eickhoff, Diane Dandrea, John Berry, and Linda Bair form a panel to discuss safe driving.

English, Languages Focus on Self-Expression

Modern languages are taught from a conversational standpoint. The advanced classes are conducted almost entirely in the foreign tongue. In this picture, Mr. Millard Arnold, Head of the Language Department, chats about the weather with a class.

The language lab gives French and Spanish students the opportunity to listen to taped foreign conversations and also to hear themselves speak the languages. Here, Miss Mary Anne Kondrath helps a class with some difficult pronunciation.

Slide Rule Aids Mathematicians, Scientists

For students on academic diploma, a major in math is available through the several advanced courses. Steve Waterman, Dick Dillon, and Beverly Boyd use the oversize slide rule to work out a problem.

Physics classes seem to use the whole building as their "laboratory"! Nancy Norcross, Shirley White, and Jan McDaniels study the relationship between mass and acceleration on the floor in the auditorium foyer.

Mr. Don Hully, instructor in Earth Science, Manual's new science course, explains an acceleration-due-to-gravity experiment to Jim Shockley, Charles Kidwell, and Patsy Davis.

Senior Bob LaFara, Iowan photographer, caught the star trail pattern around the North Star in a four-hour time exposure as part of his astronomy study in Earth Science.

Jim Odom and Teddy Patrick net an insect near Pleasant Run for their bug collection for Biology, a course most of us take since the state requires two years of science for high school graduation.

Social Studies Involve Campaigning, Voting

Films are an essential part of the Social Studies curriculum. Here, a World History class gains further knowledge about India and its former leader, Gandhi. U.S. History, Government, and Economics classes also view their share of films.

November 3, was election day for Manual students as well as adult voters. All pupils in Social Studies classes voted in the Auditorium during their class periods. Posters for both local and national candidates added a touch of realism for Manualites as they lined up at the polls.

All students who wished to vote had to register. Unlike regular registration the student was only required to place his name on the voting list. Here Ronnie Hines and Linda Kautsky check to make sure nothing is overlooked while Peggy Wheeler waits to pass out the ballot.

Voting machines were not available, but Manual's stage crew constructed voting booths in which students could mark their secret ballots. The long paper ballot contained names of major candidates of the four parties. Manual, like state and nation, went Democratic down the line.

Mr. Oran Davis, Head of the Art Department, acts as critic for his art students as the would-be artists bring their work up to his desk for his expert opinion and advice. These are beginning art pupils working in freehand drawing.

Art Classes Bring Creativeness to Life

Using small scraps of stained glass, students of this Craft Arts class fashioned such things as ashtrays, plaques, and trivets. This was one of many projects the numerous craft classes pursued throughout the year.

Sophomore David Newlin watches as Mrs. Mildred Haskens inspects a piece of jewelry he has smoothed with a file. Jewelry classes work with metals and semi-precious stones to produce rings, bracelets, necklaces, and other items.

Business Majors Train for Vocations

Senior Don Taylor uses an adding machine to work one of his bookkeeping problems. Pupils are given practical situations involving ownership, cost and accounting of small businesses, and office procedures which they might face in future work.

Electric dictaphones, widely used in modern offices, are part of the equipment for office training classes. Jackie Noles, Claudia Robinson, and Sandra Mussmann type as they listen to taped exercises recorded on the dictaphone.

Bookkeeping classes teach students the fundamental skills of balancing figures in journal credits and debits. Here Jim Hurt and Jan DeArmond each use a calculator, a machine on which one can do the four basic types of math, to check the figures in their ledgers.

Sewing talents become sharpened as future homemakers work in clothing classes. Here Linda Rick and Mary Jo Powers concentrate on completing semester projects.

Seamstresses, Chefs Perfect Their Skills

Foods at Manual is not for girls only. Chuck Lambuth and Rodney Iverson work together in Boys' Foods to make their cake special. This course prepares boys for jobs as waiters or chefs, and also makes them better husband-material.

"Design plus line makes an attractive you". Pat Langford, Judy Hancock, and Voleetta Richardson of the Advanced Clothing class, set up a display which was shown at the annual Hobby Show at the Fair Grounds.

Manual shops offer two years of electronics which provide basic techniques in both theory and practical work. Here, Jack Owens wires a tube checker for use in radio repairing.

Handy Skills Develop In Industrial Arts

Preparing to start the engine they overhauled in Auto Shop, Jerry Wilde puts gasoline into the float of the carburetor while Fred Strait stands by with a fire extinguisher.

Derrell Owen examines a roof beam as Terry Clugston works on his scale model of a house built from class-made plans in Architectural Drawing class.

Clayton Taylor, John Sterling, and Terry Muncy discuss the two-point perspective drawing of a house which Clayton is designing using a drafting machine.

In Girls' gym, exercises develop grace, agility, and balance. Here Kathy Marshall demonstrates good form for a rear vault over the horse.

Patty Hittle combines balance and poise to perform a chest stand on the parallel bars in Advanced Gym class.

Gym Exercises 'Physical Fitness' Policy

Boy's Gym classes intersperse apparatus exercises, tumbling and calisthenics with a fast game of basketball or other sport to complete their physical education program.

Victory Caps Twelfth Homecoming Pageant

Senior Bruce Arnold serves as chauffeur in the smallest car, "chariot" for Papooses Charlotte Richeson and Alvin Goodwin, who bear the Homecoming crowns. The shiny new crowns were made by the Craft Arts Club. Bob Heichelbach is escort.

Glee Club girls form an aisle down which Freshmen Football Players Bill Lloyd and Jim McDonald unroll the royal carpet, laying the path for the regal Homecoming procession.

October 16 was a wonderful Homecoming—perfect weather, a beautiful half-time show, and a victory over highly-touted Broad Ripple. Many alumni returned to greet former school friends and teachers and once again cheer our Redskin grid team.

For the half-time ceremony a parade of convertibles decked in red and white rounded the track bearing the candidates for King and Queen—Perry Cobb, Mike Hargraves, Mike Mager, Mike McGuire, Tom Roberts, Diane Eickhoff, Nancy Norcross, Lana Richards, Linda Wheeler, and Phyllis Kottkamp.

Royal hopefuls promenaded up the white carpet to the center of the field where the Redskin Marching Band had formed a block "M." Principal C. Edgar Stahl opened the envelope and announced Mike Mager and Diane Eickhoff as King Manual XII and his queen. Steve Davis and Connie Mudd, last year's royalty, crowned them as Mr. Wendell Mertz, choir director, sang "Here She Comes, Queen of Manual High," accompanied by the Glee Club.

Returning to their convertibles, all participants circled the track once more, ending the pageant.

On the gridiron, the Redskins and the Rockets resumed their battle which Manual won 12-7.

ROTC 'Sounds Off' In All-New Uniforms

Manual's 1965 ROTC Rifle Team won the city championship! Manual upset favored Broad Ripple by a score of 2,289 to 2,180, to win the annual Indianapolis Small Bore Rifle Meet and a large trophy, breaking Broad Ripple's three year hold on the city title. All Redskin firers scored above the 200 mark and compiled a team average of 228.9. Sgt. Claude Shanks was coach for these sharpshooters.

The city championship Rifle Team included John Vibbert, John Weidner, Michael Yarber, Benny Patrick, Alfred Stahl, Larry Petrie, Charles Saunders, Larry Gardner, and David Wheeler.

Clad in sharp new uniforms, army green with dark blue lapels, members of our ROTC Battalion began their year of activities by marching in the Veterans' Day Parade. Cadets serve the school regularly as messengers, ushers, and doormen for activities like Redskin Revue and Open House, and for other school-sponsored functions. They also guard the playing floor at home basketball games. Each morning the flag corps puts up the school flag, and this unit presents colors at auditorium programs.

Every Thursday and Friday the cadets dress in full uniform. On Friday they stand inspection while one of six red-and-white-clad senior girls, honorary cadets, officiates. Chosen by vote of the ROTC, these girls rotate the duty of inspection.

Cadets can further their special interest by participating in the Rifle Team, Drill Team, and ROTC History Club. The climax to a busy year comes in the spring at Federal Inspection, and our unit consistently wins "Honor School" ratings.

The highlight of all the activities is the annual Military Ball for which a Queen is chosen. This year's queen was Sherrie Lopossa.

We Hear 'Opportunity' Knock on Special Day

Manual's 12th annual Opportunity Day gave us Redskins a glimpse into the future as we gained information about the career areas in which our interests lie. College panels, which included students from Butler University and Indiana Central College, helped many get a personalized view of college problems. In an auditorium program prior to the actual Opportunity Day activities, we heard Mr. Thomas Boardman, Editor of The Indianapolis Times, discuss the steps to follow in choosing a career.

Program choices for Opportunity Day were geared to student requests. Guest speakers from industry, business, training programs, and professions talked with pupils about careers ranging from engineering to X-ray technology. In addition to the different talks, three panels were offered. Sophomores and juniors were invited to hear "Preparation for Admission to College," while seniors looked ahead to "Problems of Adjustment to College." Anyone interested in the various fields of nursing listened to a panel on "Health Careers." Another added feature to this year's program was the breaking down of engineering into five divisions: mechanical, civil, chemical, electrical, and architectural engineering. This change helped many focus on particular fields and to be more specific in thinking of college.

Miss Martha Akers, supervisor of the student nursing program at I.U. Medical Center, heads a panel discussion on "Health Careers." Students received information on nursing, X-ray technology, dental hygiene, and occupational therapy.

College bound seniors "get the facts" from a panel discussion on the "Problems of Adjustment to College." Relating their personal experiences and answering questions from their audience are students from Indiana Central College.

Projects Fair Displays

Year's Achievements

Sally Pullen adjusts Chris Iverson's Japanese costume, an extra feature of the Social Studies Department's exhibit at the Projects Fair. Danny Cook watches with an approving eye.

At the close of each school year, students are given the opportunity to view the semester projects of their fellow classmates at the annual Student Projects Fair. Set up in the gymnasium, the Fair is open to all Manualites for one day during Periods 1-4. Later in the evening the gym is opened to parents to give them a chance to visit the many projects and exhibits.

All academic departments enter outstanding work of students, who vie for first, second, and third place awards. Each department is responsible for seeing that its area work is judged.

One of the highlights of the Fair is a style show produced by the Home Economics Department. Each piece of clothing is modeled by the maker, seamstresses from the various clothing classes.

"Manual Manuscripts," a booklet of Manualites' writings, is displayed by the English Department along with winning materials from the department's contests. The Social Studies Department enters numerous charts, maps, and term reports.

The Industrial Arts Department exhibited many projects from its various shops. Here Eric Williams, Mike McLaren, and Rick Foster examine a student-made hacksaw from Metal Shop.

Fascinated by the colorful portraits displayed by the Art Department are Sally Martz and Tom Roberts. Also included in the display were ceramics, jewelry, and weaving.

Enthusiastic Parents Plan Fun, Fund-Raisers

Throughout the year our Manual parents support school projects by sponsoring money-making activities. The profits from these come to us Manualites for such things as our bus, band uniforms, and partial scholarships to work shops and institutes.

Our enthusiastic parents begin the year with a chili supper before the first home football game and throughout the season serve coffee, donuts, and other goodies at their well-known concession stands at the football field. Basketball season finds the Dads Club's refreshments moved to the gym.

The annual Pow-Wow is the biggest, most successful of the P-TA's projects. Activities start at 5:30 P.M. with a fish fry served in the cafeteria. Booths are set up in the gym, and a Vaudeville Show is in the auditorium using Redskin Revue talent.

The largest crowd at the Pow-Wow can always be found at the food counters. Here Moms, Dads, and faculty members combine their efforts to serve dinner to the hungry "mob."

Appropriately stationed, Varsity Basketball Coach "Woody" McBride gets an opportunity to look over prospective material as he mans the basketball shoot at the Pow-Wow.

Parties, Dances, Proms Create Festive Moods

Soft light set the mood for dancing at "Winter Wonderland."

The Roines Romp launched this year's dances on October 3. Advertised as "three hours of fun for a quarter," it provided Manualites a chance to get together for an informal evening.

Although the annual "Pic Parade" fell on Friday the thirteenth, underclassmen found the November dance lucky since they got their picture packets. The publications-sponsored dance had seniors voted King Ivan and Queen Ann.

The Christmas season lent its holiday atmosphere to many clubs. They planned parties that included gift exchanges and homemade goodies.

Sustaining the holiday mood was the Music Department's January "Winter Wonderland." For the turn-about semi-formal, the Cafeteria became a ski lodge and the weatherman provided snow outside.

During the basketball season, Student Affairs Board sponsored after-game dances. "John Henry Hop," for yearbook distribution, was the last informal on May 22 in the cafeteria.

The Junior and the Senior Proms closed the school year on a formal note. The Junior Class made the gymnasium a place of beauty while the seniors went to the Indiana Roof to climax their high school memories the night after graduation.

Sharon Nelson and Vicki Jung serve at "Winter Wonderland."

Redskin Revue 'Steals March' from Calendar

Many tiring, but fun-filled hours go into a Redskin Revue production. This year's thirty-sixth annual all-school musical show was no exception as after-school and night rehearsals filled the month of March. It gave us the opportunity to display our talents, interests, and leadership abilities.

A forest in merry England, a teakwood pavilion on Wakiki Beach, and a sixteen-foot spaceship were among exotic props Mr. Carl Wright and his stage crew created for the March 26-27 performances of the four student-written and directed acts.

"Sentimental Seaweed," written by Juniors Debbie Barkhau and Pat Roberts, centered around the forbidden romance of a vacationing college boy and a Hawaiian princess. In order to win the princess, the boy had to find a fabled stone on the bottom of the ocean. His only problem—he couldn't swim.

"Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Czar," by Freshmen Don Goebel and Marianne Hedges, was set on a strange planet where an American spaceship had crash-landed. Trouble developed when the men discovered that a Russian spaceship had also crashed there.

Seniors Judy Hansen and Rita Sexton's act, "Election Perfection," took place in a small western town during election-time for sheriff. Confused competition prevailed as the retiring sheriff's daughter and her fiance vied for the office.

Sherwood Forest was the background for "Sherwood Shenanigans," by Juniors Bev Boyd and Jim Koenig. The plot developed around the love triangle—Robin Hood, the Sheriff, and Maid Marian. The act was climaxed by a dual between the rivals. It won the much coveted "First Place" trophy.

Director of Productions Carl Wright instructs Act Writers Judy Hansen, Rita Sexton, Bev Boyd, Don Goebel, Jim Koenig, Pat Roberts, Debbie Barkhau, and Marianne Hedges.

Seniors Don Townsend and Nancy Norcross, Redskin Revue committee co-chairmen, work with Mr. Fred Bennett, co-ordinator, to assign jobs to other members of the committee, which is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Activities Complement Our Many Moods

Enthusiasm and loyalty blend whenever Manualites get together for activities. Whether the group meeting is a service organization, a class-oriented club, a musical rehearsal, a publications staff work-session, a party, an after-game hop, a semi-formal dance, or a Prom, we find gay companionship, broadening of interests, and use for our talents. Activities add much to our education and to the enjoyment of school, and they fill the needs of our varied moods.

Masoma, Roines Serve Manual, Alums, Faculty,

Presenting Freshman Vicki Fritts with a prize for the most original name tag is Sue Huppert. This contest has become a traditional activity of the Masoma-Freshman Mixer.

Membership for Roines and Masonia, senior honoraries, is based on scholarship, character, and service. Both clubs were founded in 1914 with the basic aim of service to Manual. These two groups combine efforts at the beginning of each semester to assist freshman in their Home Rooms and to help guide them through their first weeks of high school. Members also offer individual tutoring to those who need help with their studies.

The Masoma-Freshman Mixer provided 9-B's with an opportunity to get acquainted. "To Clothe a child" was Masoma's annual project. The girls sponsored a car wash to raise money and presented a complete wardrobe to a needy child at Christmas. Masomas waited tables at the Fall Athletic Banquet and served at the annual Alumni birthday party dinner in February. The Masomas ended the year's activities by sponsoring a dance, April 10.

This year's officers were Nancy Norcross, president; Diane Eickhoff, vice-president; Pat Langford and Linda Harkness, secretaries; Julie Schulz, treasurer; and Judy Shives, historian.

Make School Pleasanter for Fellow Redskins

With Mr. Richard Blough resuming sponsorship, Roines began the year by sponsoring the annual Roines ROMP. Their 50th Anniversary was marked by a semi-formal, the first dress-up dance of the year, for the entire school in November.

Annual Christmas project of Roines was placing the large, traditional wreath above the main entrance of the school. This is put together by the members who weave pine boughs into a wire-covered frame, fifteen feet in diameter. The frame, which comes apart in segments, was made by members.

The Roines added another duty to their list by accepting the responsibility for the outside bulletin board which faces Madison Avenue and advertises Manual activities to passersby. They check the board each Monday morning to keep it up to date.

Roines boys manned the checkroom on Alumni night for the convenience of the guests.

April 1 brought fun for all as the annual Roines-Faculty basketball game brought students and teachers alike to the gymnasium to root for their cohorts. Masomas were cheerleaders for Roines.

Bruce Arnold and Steve Susemichel arrange announcements.

National Honor Society Cites Top Scholars

New members of the National Honor Society were announced by President Paul Stroud in a junior-senior auditorium. Verse introduced each new member, summing up his achievements.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character are the traits of a National Honor Society member. This year, twenty-two seniors and fourteen juniors were inducted into Manual's chapter on April 25, increasing the membership to fifty-four.

The National Honor Society was founded in 1921 in Pennsylvania, but Manual's chapter was not established until 1956.

NHS strives to create an enthusiasm for scholarship throughout a school. Its national scope gives the Honor Society a high significance and an unusual prestige. The national organization administers a scholarship fund which has provided scholarships, awards, and certificates of merit to outstanding students going to college. It feels that one of the hopes for better high schools in the future rests on the members of the National Honor Society.

All juniors elected must have a grade average of 6.75 and seniors must have a 6.25 average. The membership cannot exceed 3 percent of the junior class or 10 percent of the senior class. Qualified students are chosen by vote of the faculty.

Although some chapters of the National Honor Society are service organizations, Manual's chapter is strictly an Honorary and has no activities. The organization's insignia is a gold keystone.

SAB Devises Behavior Code for Manualites

Secretary Patty Koopman and President Perry Cobb present a PA announcement covering one of the aspects of the "Code of Conduct." This was one of a series of skits.

Manual's Student Affairs Board this year reactivated the system of having a Student Assembly, representatives and alternates chosen from each Home Room to relay back SAB business.

The Student Affairs Board's After-Game Dances provided fun for students following basketball games. A roster board, indicating names of basketball players and their fouls, was presented to the school for the gym by the SAB.

Manual has two representatives in Intra-city Student Council, which sponsored the annual Sportsmanship Contest for the Sectional. This organization arranged exchange speakers for the pre-Sectional pep rallies. Chuck Todd represented Manual.

In an effort to make everyone associated with Manual more conscious of proper behavior, the Student Affairs Board introduced a code of conduct to the school. The idea grew out of suggestions from the faculty's annual Bradford Woods Workshop in November. To impress this code, a series of humorous PA announcements and skits, written by SAB members, were presented during Home Room to dramatize the importance of our adopting it.

SAB has paid expenses for Junior Bill Glass to attend the Student Council Workshop this summer at Indiana University, in the hope that he will bring back many new and different ideas.

Extroverts among Us Take to Stage, Air

Jim Koenig as Mr. McKeever vigorously pedals an exercising vehicle in his office in "Solid Gold Cadillac."

Entertainment apprentices learn fundamentals of acting, announcing, make-up, stage production, costuming, lighting, and engineering in National Thespians, Mask and Wig, Radio Club, and Stage Crew. Acting, announcing and record chatting, and setting stages all form a new learning experience.

National Thespians, honorary organization in dramatics, presented Agatha Christie's mystery, "The Unexpected Guest." As an added attraction, the actor who portrayed the victim was kept secret from the cast and audience until the actual performance when Mr. Ed Wall, head of the Science Department, took his place on stage as the victim.

Combining with Mask and Wig, the Thespians took part in a comedy, "Solid Gold Cadillac." Mask and Wig also presented a one-act play, "The Valiant," a drama depicting the last moments in a mysterious prisoner's life. Mr. Fred Bennett sponsors Thespians, and Miss Athena Chochos, Mask and Wig.

Mr. Carl Wright directs the Stage Crew and Stage Craft classes in setting up production of the many stage settings required during a school year.

Radio Station WMHS broadcasts event reminders and a variety of music every school morning before classes begin over the intercom system. Several of the engineers have FCC Third Class Radio-Telephone licenses with broadcast endorsement. Sponsor of Radio Club is Mr. Malcolm Stern.

McKeever, played by Jim Koenig, attracts attention from "Solid Gold Cadillac" members Sharon Callahan, Jan Nolting, Betty Parrett, Chuck Lambuth, Don Townsend, Lynn Kinkade, Don Miller, Chuck Todd, Sharon Dain, and Marchita Lemme.

Chief Engineer David Ford mans controls during the WMHS Morning show. Gerald Sturgeon and Ronald Davis make up the broadcast team that spins discs and puts on announcements to keep Manualites informed on school activities.

Mr. Carl Wright, Director of Productions, instructs stage crew members Mike Heavrin, Jerry Hurst, Lloyd Slinkard, and David McGuff how to put the finishing touches to a spaceship, one of the intricate props built for stage productions this year.

All action stops in the National Thespian production, "The Unexpected Guest," as cast members Sally Stephans, Nancy Norcross, Jim Koenig, Don Townsend, Mr. Ed Wall, Sharon Callahan, Ben Schanzel, Lynn Kinkade, Chuck Lambuth, and Lin Ellis pose for Ivian.

Four-in-One Band Fills Many 'Shoes'

The Manual Redskin Marching Band completed a successful season by receiving a "first division" rating in the annual marching contest. Led for the third year by Drum Major Diane Eickhoff, the 94-piece band entertained football fans with their precision half-time shows. The band also participated in the Veterans' Day and Christmas Parades.

The band was cut to 75 members when concert season began. Under the direction of Mr. William D. Kleyla, the band presented the annual winter concert along with the Glee Club.

Selected members of the band made up the Pep Band and Stage Band which aided Manual at basketball games and Redskin Revue, respectively.

Once again the band took to the field in the spring in preparation for the "500" Parade. For 22 seniors, their final concert was commencement. Officers were Kelly Glass, captain; Tom Baxter and Silas Richardson, lieutenants; Julie Schulz, secretary; and Sharon Callahan, historian.

Diane Eickhoff, Jan Garrity, Diana Mills, Sharon Callahan, and Barbara Mascoe presented the Colors before the basketball games. Backing them up here is the Pep Band.

The Band, led by the strutting twirlers, marched in the annual Veterans' Day parade under the direction of Drum Major Diane Eickhoff. They preceded Manuals ROTC battalion in the lineup which included all school ROTC units along with regular army personnel and equipment. This is one of the "big" parades for both Band and ROTC.

'Pajama Game' Proves 'Hit' as Annual Musical;

The stage crew spotlighted individual performers as they came up for solos in "Pajama Game." Here Kenny Eaton sings to Michele Craig, and Linda Ellis, union leader, arbitrates.

Employees of the pajama factory steel themselves against the noise as Jim "Heinze" Koenig prepares to fire at a target at the "Once A Year Day" picnic. It's a big time for all union members of the "Sleep-tite Company."

Soloists from the choir and 21 musicians from the orchestra, making up a "pit orchestra," presented the musical show "Pajama Game," with the help of the entire Music Department. The show was staged November 20 and 21, two big nights—a Manual first.

The orchestra and choir, with Glee Club, combined their talents to entertain the P-TA at their Christmas meeting and Manualites for the vacation-send-off auditorium.

Boasting 73 members, the choir sang Christmas songs on Monument Circle for WIBC and caroled in several of the downtown stores. The 52-member orchestra played Yuletide music at School 34.

The Orchestra performed again for the P-TA in February, entertained on Alumni Night, played at School 65 and on Honors Day. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Dick, these musicians enjoyed a successful season with Marchita Lemme, president; Larry Manning, vice-president; Connie Goodin, secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Lagle, historian.

Mr. Wendell Mertz, decked out in a new red blazer to match the choir's robes, led the group as they sang for Schools 72 and 19, and for the P-TA. The Manualaires, 20 songsters from the choir, entertained when a small group was needed. Choir officers were Ron Rutherford, president; Judy Shives, vice-president; Nancy Lagle, secretary; Lynn Kinkade, treasurer; Diane Eickhoff, librarian.

Spring concert, May Music Festival, and Vespers found the orchestra and choir together again.

Glee Club Girls Harmonize with New Sponsor

For the first time in thirty years, the Girls' Glee Club began the school year with a new director, Mrs. Martha Cross. This all-girl vocal group displayed its talent at many school programs, including the Christmas and Thanksgiving auditoriums. They were accompanied by Junior Marchita Lemme.

They sang several specialty numbers, parodies about Manual's "best seller," in the Ivian subscription Campaign. They combined with the band for the annual Band-Glee Club Concert.

The girls also had a special treat when they donned letter sweaters to sing a group of Christmas numbers during halftime at an Indianapolis Warriors' football game at Victory Field. For their performance they received a trophy.

The Glee-ettes, a special group composed of the best voices from Glee Club, also performed for community organizations. Decorating the cafeteria to resemble a Swedish Ski Lodge was the Glee Club's contribution for the only turn-about dance of the year, "Winter Wonderland." This dance was sponsored by all groups of the Music Department.

Officers of Glee Club—Judy Hancock, Betty Barkhau, Linda Harkness, Elizabeth Roberts, Charlene Bartram, June Cook—pose with the trophy they received for singing Christmas songs for the Indianapolis Warriors at Victory Field.

FNA, Red Cross Focus On Careers, Service

Investigating careers in the field of health are members of Future Nurses of America. Under the sponsorship of Miss Virginia Edds, the club dressed dolls in the uniforms of doctors, nurses, technicians, and even a Candy Stripper, to use to dramatize health careers in displays. Members of the club who are sixteen years old are eligible to work as Candy Stripers. This year's girls aided patients at nearby St. Francis Hospital.

The purpose of High School Red Cross is to serve others and to develop skills, leadership ability, and civic pride. Members of the Manual chapter began their year of activities at Christmas by packing a party box for children at General Hospital. The girls also put up posters to promote the United Fund Drive. Members did volunteer work at the Indianapolis Red Cross Chapter House and received pins for 25 or more hours of volunteer work, packing party boxes and clothing for needy persons, and preparing center-pieces for hospital parties. Under the guidance of Mrs. Judith Bands, the group has entered the correspondence program of the Red Cross. Choosing Greece as the country, the club will exchange cultural ideas with a chapter in that country. The officers of the group were Bertha Milli, president; Rose Milli, vice-president; Kathy Yates, treasurer; Sheila Bush and Mary Powers, secretaries.

FNA officers—Jessie Waynick, secretary; Sharon Rackley, vice-president; Linda Groce, treasurer; and Joan Damrell, president—plan a meeting program on health careers.

Linda Groce and Joan Damrell present health careers using FNA-costumed dolls in a display case in the main entrance. This aided the Booster's drive against tuberculosis.

Booster Staff Lives by Weekly Deadlines

Booster reporters, posed for the photographer, are Marcia Sublett, Susan Williams, Charlene Suite, Ginger Charnes, Georgeanna Lewis, Sally Pullen, and Ruthann Surber.

Meeting deadlines to produce twenty-four issues of The Manual Booster teaches reporters to take responsibility and to follow through on assignments.

For the staff, the year has been one of real campaigning. It included the Booster's "all-out-war on wreckless driving" which ran through four consecutive issues, a trophy-winning edition urging students to protect themselves against tuberculosis and to look into Health Careers, and the successful end of a 10-year editorial campaign for a footbridge across Pleasant Run at Ransdell Street.

The Booster also added a sixth "George Washington Honor Medal" to its display of Valley Forge Freedoms Foundation Awards. This was for an editorial promoting the American way of life, and it also carried a check for fifty dollars.

A red Christmas issue, a new column "Suite Talk," the sportswriters coverage of our "Top Ten" ranked basketball team, the usual colorful writing about Redskin Revue, all spiced up the year's activities.

Editors and reporters, using skills gained in Cub Club, journalism classes, and Indiana University Institutes, look back on a year filled with both work and the excitement of getting the week's news into print. From Monday's new assignments to the Friday afternoon phone call, "This is Manual—our copy's ready," the Booster office is a center of real school spirit, with its staff members following their editorial policy—"boosting."

Helping Joe Huff, center, prepare wrappers for mailing Boosters are Pam Medcalf, Ben Schanzel, Don Goebel, and Kathy DeWitt. More than 150 copies are mailed out each week.

Cub Club 'Preps' Freshmen for Staff

Cub Club for freshmen organizes each semester to give "basic training" to newcomers interested in writing. At their weekly meetings, Cubs learn to read galleys, correct proofs, and to do a bit of news-writing. Identification tests on school personnel are a regular activity. Each semester the Cubs tackle a feature story together.

Ivian Preserves History of the Year for Us

Ivian Editor Nancy Lagle confers with Julie Schulz, assistant editor; Dennis Bruns, advertising manager; and Beverly Steele, art editor, about ideas for drawings for "dividers."

Watching the yearbook grow from just an idea to a finished book, bound in its own hard cover, puts everyone associated with it in a really satisfied mood with justified pride. With the reputation Manual's Ivian has built up — the last seven books' having won the "All-American" rating from the National Scholastic Press Association — all staff members were on their toes to give this '65 edition their best efforts.

Preliminary work on the 1965 Ivian began last summer when Editor Nancy Lagle, Assistant Editor Julie Schulz, Advertising Manager Dennis Bruns, and Photographer Phil Tanasovich spent two weeks at Indiana University attending the High School Journalism Institute. Mrs. Jane Gable, Director of Publications, was a member of the faculty. They got an over-all view of "blue-printing" a yearbook to make it present the whole story of the year.

The yearbook campaign got into full swing with the nomination of the Ivian as "Book of the Year" at the "political" convention in an auditorium. This kicked off the sales campaign so covers could be ordered by the December 15 deadline.

Kathleen Winalda, Beverly Boyd, and Linda Scheier plan informal pictures for the underclass section of the Ivian.

Nancy Norcross and Debbie Stace were responsible for lining up and getting the "dope" on all members of the Senior Class.

Inside the Ivian go all the ingredients of the school year. Since teaching academics is the main function of a school, this section of the yearbook is most important; and every department is represented through pictures and copy.

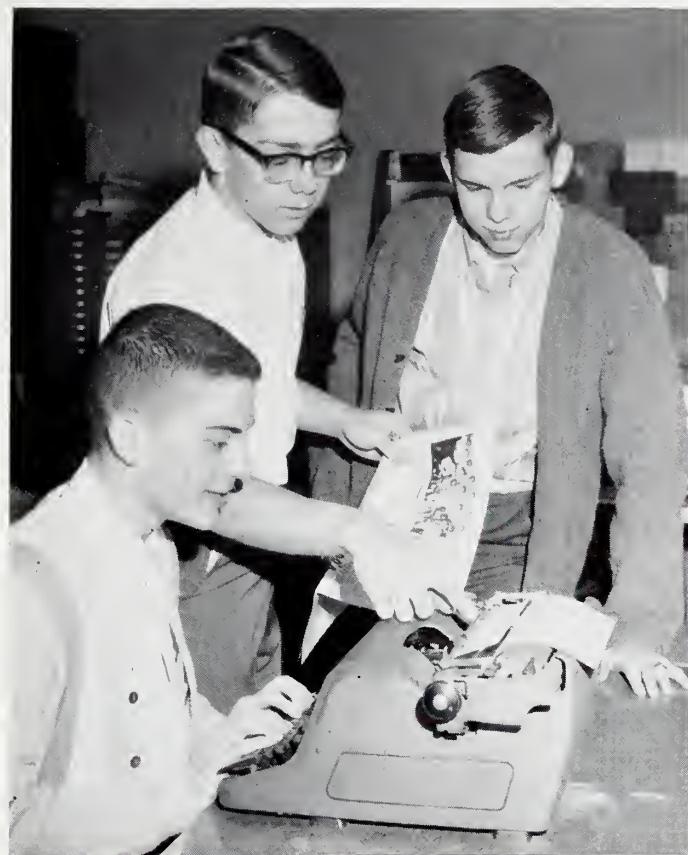

Our classroom work is supplemented by activities in clubs, honoraries, and music organizations.

Varsity, reserve, and freshmen teams in the athletic department are all in the yearbook. Sports-writers keep busy following all athletic contests, to keep accurate records up to date.

Advertising, important in helping pay expenses, also makes the Ivian a community-wide publication.

As the final deadline approached, the staff added work-Saturdays and the "Many Moods of Manual" became this permanent book, the 1965 Ivian.

A three-in-one team are these three sports writers: Lynn Kinkade, at the typewriter, David Stace, and Dick Dillon. They take care of the sports page of the Booster, the athletic section of The Iowan, and correspondence for city papers.

Chief Photographer Bob LaFara discusses the staff's new-this-year Mamiya Camera with Phil Tanasovich, Dale Grant, and Chris Wodtke. These boys took most of the pictures in this book with this camera and the trusty old Graphic.

QUILL AND SCROLL—SEATED: Donna Black and Patty Koopman. STANDING: Nancy Lagle, Julie Schulz, Charlene Suite, Chuck Lambuth, Linda Ellis, Dick Dillon, Jim Koenig, Bob LaFara, Susan Ellis, Bev Boyd, Kathleen Wynalda. Others are Lynn Kinkade and Dan Ryan. To be elected to this honorary, a person must be a junior and a "year-old" staffer.

Citizen's League, Debaters Study Civic Problems

Mounting an Indiana sesquicentennial plate are Citizens' League members Merilyn Overton, David Parkhurst, Gloria Alstott, Inge Hildebrandt, and Mr. LeRoy Heminger, sponsor. The club sold them for the State Historical Society.

The purpose of Citizen's League is to create a greater insight into Social Studies. Under the new sponsorship of Mr. LeRoy Heminger, the club began its activities by welcoming back Mrs. Coral Black, former Manual teacher, to show slides and lecture on her trip to Africa. Later in the year the club viewed Mr. Walter Floyd's films of Hawaii.

Field trips were made to the new Indianapolis jail and municipal Courts, and spring vacation, to New Harmony, Vincennes, and Anger Mounds.

Members of Citizen's League helped to celebrate the sesquicentennial of Indiana by selling commemorative car plates for the Indiana Historical Society. The group also served at the Social Studies Honors Day. Officers of the club were Mary Jane Hollcraft, president; Jan McDaniels, vice-president; Kathleen Malling, secretary; David Parkhurst, treasurer.

The debate club, in its second year under the sponsorship of Mr. James Kastetter, participated in the activities of the Marion County Debate League which includes all Marion county public and parochial schools. Officers were Chuck Todd, president; Kenny Eaton, vice-president; Esther Sobel, secretary; and Danny Krauss, treasurer.

Debate Team, prepared to argue both the affirmative and the negative, are Mr. James Kastetter, sponsor, Bonnie Roe, Chuck Todd, Esther Sobel, and Don Switzer, with their "debate boxes" containing source materials, clippings and notes on their current topic for debate competition.

Math, Science Attract Logical Thinkers

Mr. Harold Baumer, sponsor of the Math Club, goes over a problem with Rick Foster, Linda Bair, and Jeanine Kent, who will present it to the club for a meeting program.

Watching Volly Nelson record data from her Science Club project are Marcia Sublet (seated), Peggy Brown, David Stace, Steve Nordholt, Toby Monroe, Ralph Williams, Don Townsend, and Mr. David Otto, co-sponsor of the group with Mr. Wayne Dunbar.

Students who find a special interest in math and science can further their studies and investigations by attending math or science club.

Members of the Math Club discuss difficult problems with Mr. Harold Baumer, sponsor, at their after-school meetings. Reports are also given by individual students to the club on the various phases of math. One such was on the "Digital Computer." Officers of the club were Jim Hancock, president; Linda Bair, vice-president; Rick Foster, treasurer; and Ruthann Surber, secretary.

The Science Club meets each Saturday morning from 9:00 - 11:00. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Wayne Dunbar and Mr. David Otto, students interested in the biological, chemical, or physical aspects of science, work on individual projects; or they can also work on their term projects for class. Once a month a film or speaker is planned of general interest to members. Presiding as officers were Don Townsend, president; Esther Sobel, vice-president; and Patty Koopman, secretary-treasurer.

Many projects were completed by these "six-day" pupils for the all-school Projects Fair in June.

FTA officers Susann Barnes, historian; Barbara Dale, treasurer; Ginger Davis, president; Marcia Sublett, program chairman; Esther Sobel, vice-president; and Martha Taylor, secretary, meet to plan a program for a meeting.

Tri-Hi-Y members Nancy Bauer, Carolyn Booth, Nancy Lagle, president; and Susan Menges look over costumes from the countries they will represent in the Model United Nations at the State House to plan their outfits for the banquet.

Glancing through the list of items to be given to Central State Hospital are Y-Teen Members Emily Daly, treasurer; Mary Mattox, Barbara Comer, Sally Olds, president; Aileen McKinney, records; Sally Stephans, and Carolyn Clinard.

FTA, Tri-Hi-Y, Y-Teens Set Initial Experiences

FTA, Tri-Hi-Y, and Y-Teens offer students new experiences in many fields.

Striving to inform members about a teaching career, the Future Teachers of America conducted informal panels concerning teaching opportunities and salaries. FTA encourages members to take Cadet Teaching to gain first hand experience in front of a class to help them decide whether or not they want to go into the profession.

The Model United Nations is an interesting experience for Tri-Hi-Y members. The Model UN, sponsored by the YMCA, meets in the State House Senate Chambers for mock sessions. Two students represent a country, dressing in its costume and feigning the views of that country. Members also serve at the Fall Athletic Banquet.

Among the activities of Y-Teens was making tray favors, collecting magazines, and furnishing bingo prizes for Central State Hospital. Under the sponsorship of Miss Wilma Garrity, the club conducted discussions on "dating—do's and don'ts." They plan to send a delegate to the leadership conference at Lake Wawasee in June and to the National Conference at Washington, D.C. in August. The members chosen to represent Manual at these meetings will bring back ideas for next year's activities.

Clubs Practice Crafts for Pleasure, Profit

Making the homecoming crowns was the first project of the Craft Arts Club. Before Christmas, members concentrated on styling jewelry, ceramics, place mats, and other items for gifts. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mildred Haskens, the craftsters finished the year designing and producing a stained glass window to mount against the glass-block wall of the main stairway. Officers of the club were President Donna Neal, Vice-president Cathy Hafer, Secretary Beverly Steele, and Treasurer Vicky Jung. Chairman of the workshop is Larry Carr.

The Future Printers, a career-centered club, gave its members the advantage of professional speakers and field trips to printing companies and related industries. The club visited Liberty Printing Company, owned by Jim Wallace, last year's club president. With the help of Mr. Marvin Thorpe and Mr. John Easley, sponsors, the club printed tickets and programs for various school activities. They did the silk screening of the Redskin Revue poster, designed by Beverly Steele of the Craft Arts Club. Printing Club officers are President Tom Canida, Vice-presidents Dave Steele and Jim Green, Secretary Doug McCrady, and Treasurer Bill Price.

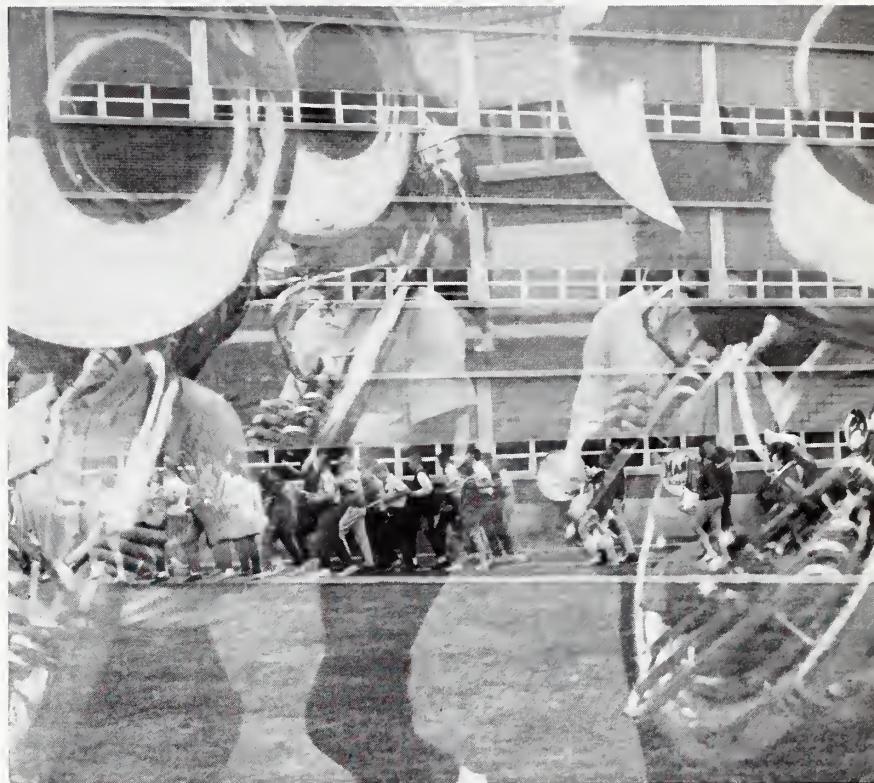

New crowns for Homecoming were made by Craft Arts Club. Here Beverly Steele and Vicky Jung put finishing touches to the royal head gear as Don Miller, Cathy Hafer, and Donna Neal select "jewels" from the club's stock of "discards."

Mr. Marvin Thorpe, sponsor, inspects a finished sample of the work of Future Printers Club members—Troy Bailey, Jim Green, Mike Bird, Tom Green, Keith Waskom, and Doug McCrady who are silk screening posters for the Redskin Revue. The group printed some fifty of the posters.

Sports Motivate Spirited Moods

With teams like the football and basketball squads we have had this year, Manual sports have been furious, frantic, and fun. We Manualites have basked in victories and enjoyed many an evening of exciting competition. We are avid Redskin rooters and love the togetherness we feel at these games. However, win or lose, our Redskins are always "good sports"; and we, our alums, and our parents find ourselves motivated by them to a spirited mood for fair play and competition.

Redskin Gridders Push to Winning Season

Junior Quarterback Ron McBride demonstrates his versatility after he has been forced to run with the ball by evading Broad Ripple tacklers in the Homecoming game.

Manual's Ellismen started slow, but finally caught fire, and blazed through a tough schedule to earn a 5-4 season record. The Redmen scalped Howe, Tech, Broad Ripple, Southport, and Wood.

Jerry Lewis became the first athlete in recent Manual history to win the coveted MVP award for the second year in a row. Lewis received a berth on the All-City team while Paul Stroud, Charles Maxey, Don Silas, and Ron McBride earned honorable mentions. Lewis placed ninth in the city scoring with 49 tallies, and Junior Joe Norris scored 36 points to earn sixteenth place on the Honor Roll.

Sacred Heart started the season by convincing the Redskins in a pre-school game, 33-13. Washington came next and stopped the Redmen, 20-7. Quarterback Ron McBride tallied all seven points. Manual blasted into the win column by demolishing Howe's Hornets, 37-0. Joe Norris romped for 18 points to lead the Redskin offense that piled up 359 yards rushing. Cathedral's Irish found rough going when they clashed with Manual, but finally nipped the Redmen, 14-7 with a fourth quarter TD.

The Redskins whipped Tech 14-0 for the second win of the season. Manual stymied Broad Ripple, 12-7 before the Homecoming crowd. The Rockets were once rated fourth in the state. Southport was undefeated until the Redmen devoured them, 20-6 by rolling up 241 yards to the Cardinal's 87.

Tension mounts and spirit hits a fever pitch in the Manual stands as the team pauses for a pre-game huddle in which the whole "bench" participates. The starters go from the huddle to the field for the kick-off.

This Ripple tackler was too late to keep Jerry Lewis from making the winning touchdown in the Homecoming game. It resulted from a twenty-two yard sprint.

Wood fell fifth victim to Manual, 33-14, in Manual's final home game. Manual traveled to Lafayette for the final game and lost to the Bronchos, 39-26, in a hard-fought battle.

Manual's Reserves found the schedule a little tough as they fought to a 2-4-1 season record. Manual battled Howe to a 6-6 tie, but forged into the win column by blasting Washington 14-0. Cathedral smacked the Redmen 14-0 for the first loss. The Redmen hosted Southport and scalped the Redbirds, 33-21, in a wide open game. Tech handed the Redskins their second loss, 14-0, and Broad Ripple nipped Manual, 19-13. Manual trekked to Southport for a rematch and lost the tilt, 13-0.

Duplicating the Redskin Reserves' season of 2-4-1, Manual's Freshmen Gridmen often found only one touchdown between them and their opponent. After a forfeit from Sacred Heart, the frosh bowed to Washington, 7-13, and to Howe, 0-7. The frosh pushed into the win column by defeating Tech, 7-0. Cathedral and Broad Ripple dropped the frosh in their fourth and fifth games, 0-7 and 0-20. Blasting Perry East, 40-0, the Redmen bounced back into the win column, but then battled Wood to a 6-6 tie.

Doug Nave, Merrell Owen, Lynn Kinkade, Darrell Owen, Jerry Peters, and Richard Newkirk display their cross country skills as they warm up before a varsity meet. Only Kinkade and Merrell and Darrell Owen will be lost by graduation.

Manual's '64 Harrier Squad capped the cross country season by outrunning eight teams in the Southport Sectional to gain seventh place.

Manual got off to a slow start in the first meet, the Washington Invitational, as they scored 225 points to gain eighth place compared to winner Washington's low score of 48. The Redskins fell to North Central and Broad Ripple in a three-way meet at North Central. Manual's harriermen never reached par as they ran to 15th place in the Southport Invitational. The Redmen tied for ninth in the Howe Invitational and wound up 20th at the Shorridge Invitational.

Coach Jack Foster's harriers earned seventh place in the City Meet at South Grove. The Cathedral-Wood-Manual meet proved to be Manual's best as they outdistanced Wood but fell to Cathedral by only two points. Manual's Reserves beat Cathedral's Irish for their only win and captured seventh place in the Reserve City Meet.

Coach Foster's Redskins will be minus five Harriers as graduation calls on Seniors Tom Roberts, Don Townsend, Lynn Kinkade, and the Owen twins, Merrell and Darrell.

Manual will retain two lettermen, Richard Newkirk and Doug Nave, to spark next year's squad.

Sport 8-6 Record

The 1965 Varsity Wrestlers chose Don VanDerMoere as their Most Valuable Player. Don emerged victorious from the Washington Sectional by defeating all other grapplers in the 165-pound class. Don also captured third place in the City Meet and scored a total of 46 points all season.

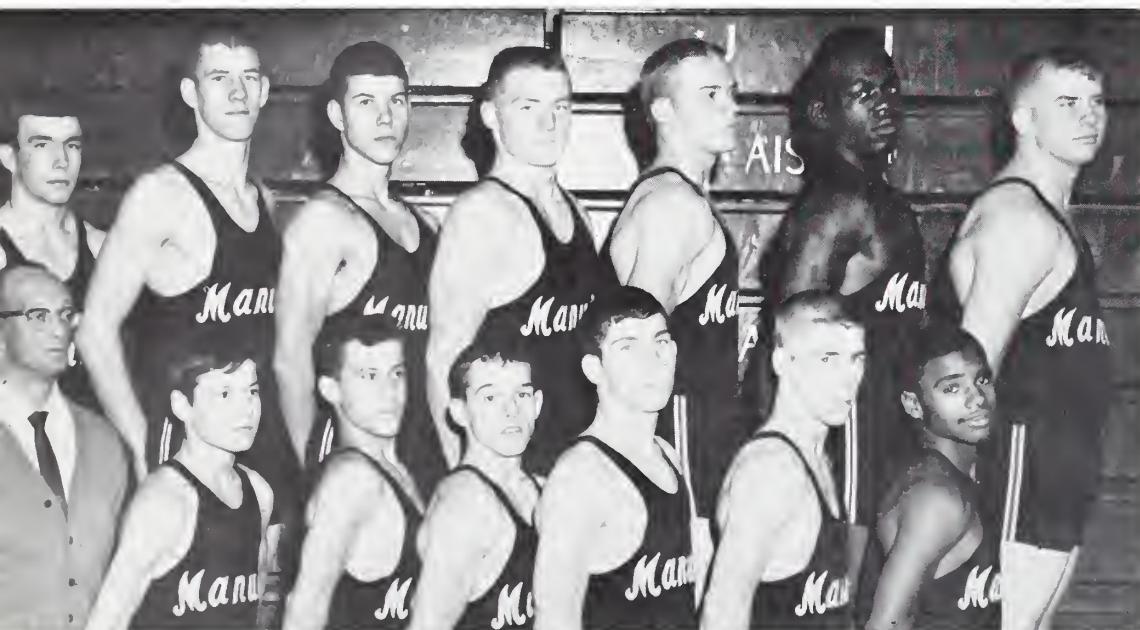

Nelson Samples took honors for scoring the most points during the season by tallying 71 points with a 13-1 season slate. Samples, only a junior, placed second in the Sectional and copped second position in the City Meet in the 95-pound class.

The Redskins finished with an 8-6 season record and placed fifth in the City Meet while grabbing seventh place in the Washington Sectional. Only five seniors will be lost by graduation.

Serendipity of Net Team Brings Thrills Galore

Mike Hargraves, Manual's Most Valuable Player, drives for a layup shot against Columbus showing the techniques that helped him earn a berth on the All-Sectional team.

Charlie Wood flips the ball between two Southport defenders after he slipped through to the bucket. His ability to seemingly be everywhere at once delighted Manual fans.

Coach Woody McBride took over the reins as head basketball coach this year and guided the team to one of the most successful years in Manual's history with a 20-3 season. The Redmen impressed reporters who kept them in the state's top ten throughout the season, at one point rating us second.

The Redskins broke a five-year jinx by Cathedral in the season's first game by smashing the Irish, 73-49. Charles Wood and Larry Smith tallied 49 points between them to equal Cathedral's score.

The Redmen then bombed Sacred Heart, 91-64, scoring the largest output of the season. Hot Manual melted cold Terre Haute Gerstmeyer, 70-41, and romped over New Albany, 79-54.

Columbus brought a 47-game winning streak to Manual and saw it snapped by the Redskins, 79-71. The 'Skins cooled Wood, 74-62, by outshooting the Woodchucks to overcome their height. Manual mutilated Lawrence Central, 80-39, on .500 shooting with Hargrave's season high of 29 points. Next tenacious Ben Davis fell to the Redmen, 76-61.

Second-rated Washington and seventh-rated Manual clashed at Indiana Central before a packed gym. Manual swished a .516 percentage and ripped open Washington's zone press to down the previously undefeated Continentals, 76-69. Hargraves again hit for 29 points, and Smith tallied 22.

Richard Cooper goes high for a rebound as he outjumps a Sccecina player in a scrap for the ball. Manual won 67-61.

'Woody's Wonders' Hit High Scoring 20-3 Slate

Broad Ripple, hosting Manual in their 1,500-seat gym, fought the roughest game yet before the Redmen pulled it out, 64-60. Next North Central fell to the Redskins at Indiana Central, 84-66.

Manual stomped Sacred Heart, 76-43, in the City Tourney to tally their twelfth win, but lost to strong Wood, 73-70—first loss of the year.

The Redmen clubbed Arlington, 80-56, and then were upset by aggressive Tech, 71-59. Once rated first in the county, Warren Central met a resounding defeat by the Redmen, 82-59. Shortridge also tasted the Redskin's kind of ball as they fell, 70-54. Highly touted Howe fell to Manual 66-60.

The Sccecina Crusaders almost pulled an upset before the cold Redmen rallied to win, 67-61. Southside rival Southport provided a tough tilt but lost, 82-70. The Cardinals built a 12-point lead in the second quarter, only to have Manual roar back out front the rest of the way.

Big Mike Hargraves Receives MVP Trophy

A Columbus defender makes a futile attempt to stop Larry Smith as he tries a layup. Larry outjumped many big fellows.

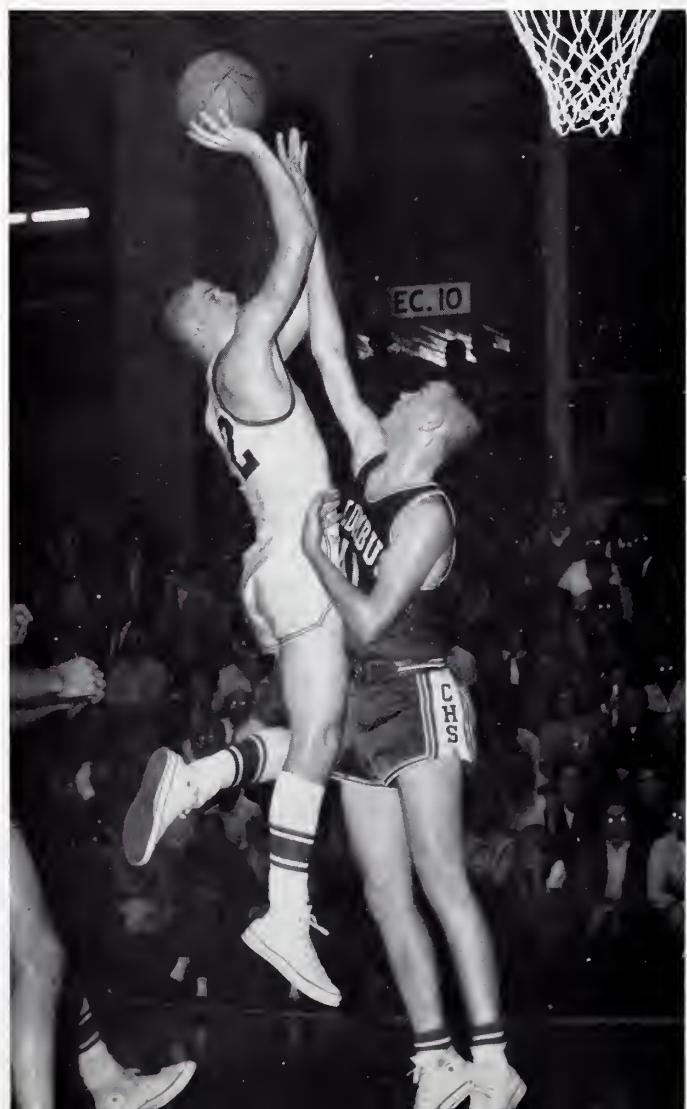

Manual entered the Southport Sectional, called the toughest in the state by many sportswriters, and won the first game, 69-61, over Beech Grove.

The Redskins then met Wood and avenged an earlier loss in a real barnburner, 75-70. This was Manual's only overtime contest of the season.

Washington's highly ranked Continentals avenged a loss to Manual earlier in the season and finally stopped the 'Skins' streak, 67-61. Manual held a 35-33 halftime lead but couldn't hang on as the Continentals opened a six-point lead in the fourth quarter. Washington upped the lead to eight points, and Manual showed the attributes of a great team as they never gave up. Perry Cobb hit a bucket at the gun to cut the lead to six.

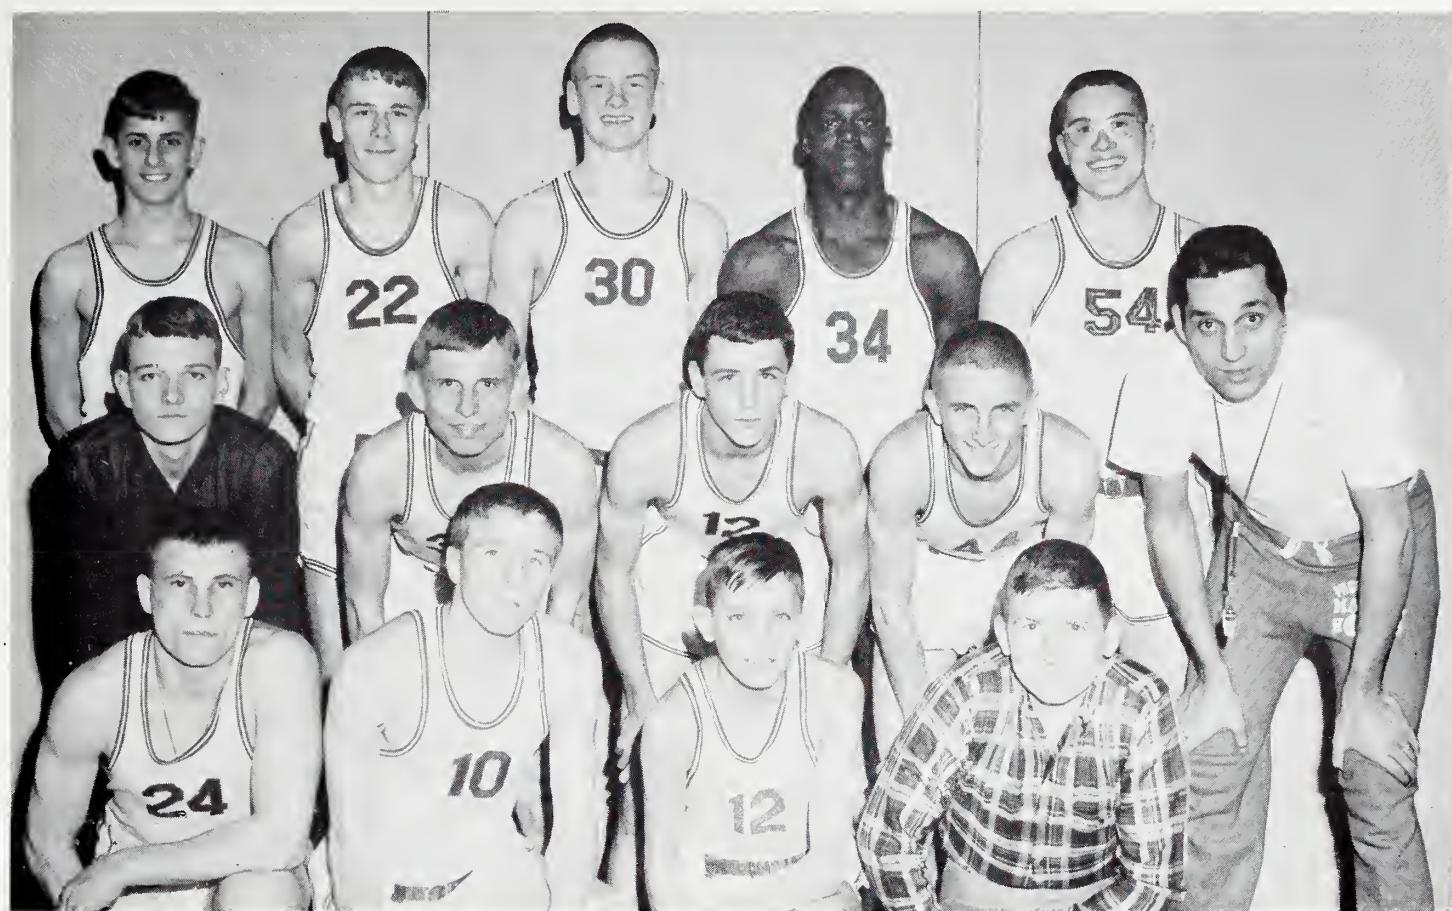

Mike Hargraves won the MVP award, and Larry Smith copped the free throw percentage trophy. All five senior starters averaged in double figures throughout the season to produce the balanced scoring attack which wins games. Coach McBride will lose Hargraves, Smith, Wood, Cobb, Richard Cooper, Mike McCray, and Mike McGuire by graduation.

Perry Cobb overjumps a Columbus Bulldog in swishing another two points. Manual stopped Columbus' 47-game winning streak.

Bill Jones Paces Tracksters to 10-4 Record

Sectional Shot-put Champion Mike Hargraves shows the concentration and form which enables him to heave the shot 52' 6".

Bill Jones, voted Most Valuable by his teammates, received a bronze medal from the Chamber of Commerce for outstanding achievement in track. Setting two new records and sharing in a third, Jones led the 'Skins to a 10-4 record. The cindermen compiled 34 points in the City Meet to tie for third with Shortridge. Bill outclassed all opponents as he won three events — both high and low hurdles and 440. He set new school records of 20.1 seconds in the low hurdles and 50.8 seconds in the 440. Richard Cooper provided the only other first for Manual by jumping 6'1½" in the high jump.

Coach "Mo" Moriarty's tracksters grabbed third place in the Sectional with 28 tallies. Jones captured the high and low hurdles, and the 440. Mike Hargraves won the shot-put with a heave of 52'6". Joe Norris earned a second in the 220; Ed Norris, third in the broad jump; and Louis Milli, second in high jump. Bill Jones earned Manual's only point in the Regional as he took a fourth in the low hurdles.

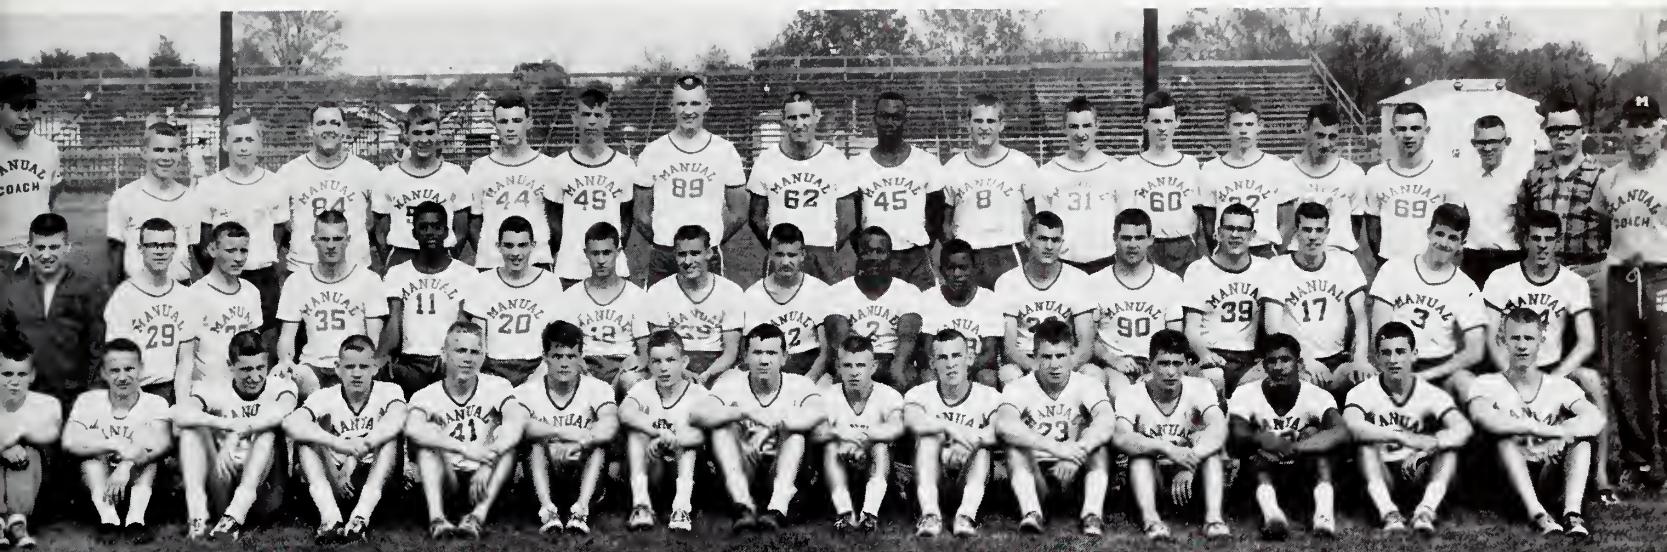

Manual seized two medals in the Hoosier Relays. Cooper placed fourth in the high jump as he bettered more than 100 contestants. Bill Pillow gained a tie for fourth place in the broad jump.

Manual's 880 relay team, consisting of Joe Norris, Mike Hargraves, Richard Cooper, and Bill Jones set a new school record of 1:35.2. Freshman Bob Brown shattered the freshman mile record as he circuited the track in 4:50.6. Don Silas bettered the freshman shot-put record with a 42' heave.

Seniors graduating were Bill Jones, Harold Brown, Larry Johnson, Louis Milli, Terry Jinks, Ed Norris, Ralph Shannon, Bill Pillow, Steve Adams, Lester Lull, and Student Manager Jim Arnold.

Bill Jones, Richard Cooper, Mike Hargraves, and Joe Norris make up the 880 relay team that set a new school record of 1:35.2. Only Bill Jones was lost by graduation.

Diamondmen 'Blow' Hot To Close '64 Season, 8-7

Last spring's Varsity Diamondmen started off with a win but then had their ups and downs. However, they won their last three contests to finish with a winning 8-7 season. Coached by former Manual faculty member Mr. Gene Harvey, the 'Skins won their first game 12-2 over Brownsburg but lost the next four in a row to Arlington, Warren Central, Ben Davis, and Bloomington University, respectively. The Redmen's luck changed for the better though when they tripped tough rival Southport 6-4.

The high spirit lasted just a short while because the Redmen were downed by Washington and Cathedral each with one-run wins. Harvey's Redmen quickly recovered and went on to win six of their remaining seven games. Sacred Heart fell 4-0, Carmel 14-2, and Brownsburg 4-3 to the Harveymen before they lost to Tech. The "A" squad finished with wins over Sccecina, Wood, and Howe.

Ron Drahos was the leading hurler and Bill Harris finished with the highest batting average and fewest strike-outs on the squad. Tom Canida was voted MVP by his teammates for hard work both on the field and at the plate.

Mike Glenn, Dan Nicoson, Larry Markle, Denzil Throckmorton, Vic Jacobs, and Ron Drahos were lost from the '64 squad by graduation.

Golf, Tennis Post Most Successful Year Yet

Coach Oral Bridgford's Golftmen finished the 1964 season with a 15-2-3 record to make one of the best showings of golf teams in Manual's history.

The Linksmen entered the City Meet and emerged with a tie for second-place honors behind champion Broad Ripple. Manual gained success in more tournament play as they placed third in the Sectional by bettering 31 of the 34 teams competing. The Divotmen continued to the State Meet and captured 13th place in the State out of 19 teams.

Bob Percifield, a sophomore letterman, tallied the best score of the year, a 34 for nine holes. Junior Terry Hook maintained a 38 average, the best for the season.

Only Norm Fuchs and Roger Day graduate as three of the five lettermen return for the 1965 team.

Seniors Ron Rae and Gene Voelkel led Manual's Tennismen to a 12-4 season record, the best since the team was formed. The Racketmen placed third in the city with an 11-2 city record.

Ron won the MVP award for the second year in a row and compiled the best singles record for the season, 14-4. Ron earned All-City rating as he placed second in the City number-one-man singles. Gene compiled a 14-5 record and grabbed a berth on All-City team. Both Ron and Gene had winning streaks of ten wins in a row.

TENNIS TEAM—Gene Voelkel, serving, and Ron Rae compiled a 12-6 record as Manual's "first" doubles team. Ron was elected MVP.

The Netmen lose Rae, Voelkel, Bob Whitson, Gerard Gennrich, Charlie Overton, Tom Hayworth, and Bob Tiffany by graduation. Only lettermen who returned for the 1965 racket squad were Sophomores Bob VanNoy and John Hartman.

Many Redskins Find Intramural Play Good

Manual's intramural sports program has something for everybody interested, and all comers are welcome. Many boys who are not proficient enough at any special sport to go out for a school team find this outlet rewarding, and girls who like competitive sports participate the year around.

Boy's intramural basketball, sponsored by Mr. Ray Schultz, took over the gym Tuesday and Thursday nights during the season. Friends got together and made up teams which participated in a fun-for-all tournament. At the end of play, an All-Star team, selected by Mr. Schultz, played a team made up of faculty men who had been basketball players.

The program for girls is more diversified, including games from September till June. Golf, tennis, archery, and softball take the girls to the campus and park during nice weather fall and spring. Badminton is reserved for rainy days.

Each winter a volleyball tournament is sponsored by Miss Elena Raglin and Miss Theo Parr, girls' physical education instructors.

"Coed" bowling, sponsored by Mr. Clifford Snyder, has a wide following during the winter months.

Jeanine Kent serves the volleyball while her team-mates and opponents wait poised for fast action on the floor.

Through the winter months, when volleyball is in season, the girls' gym is filled with blue-gym-suited girls who delight in a fast game every Monday and Friday afternoon. Organized teams play each other to a final winner in each series. It's good exercise and good fun!

Manualites Provide Friends for All Our Moods

With Manualites numbering more than 2,300, it is not surprising that we can find compatible company for whatever mood we are in. We make many friendships among our classmates. Good pals and chums share long-remembered experiences as they attend ball games, club meetings, and other school activities together, gaining new interests and pursuing common hobbies. "Best friends" made during high school days often last throughout life.

We Share 'Big Chief' with ISTA

Mr. Robert Wyatt, Executive Secretary of ISTA and immediate past-president of the National Education Association, congratulates Principal C. Edgar Stahl on his election as president of the Indiana State Teachers Association.

An annual duty of Principal Stahl as Chief of the Redskins is to review the "troops" at Federal Inspection. Our ROTC battalion marches by as he stands with the reviewing officers, Major Donald Blotte, PMS for Indianapolis schools, and Lt. Col. William B. Scruggs, Culver Military Academy.

We Manualites have proudly shared our "Chief," Principal C. Edgar Stahl, with all the teachers of the state this year. He was elected president of the Indiana State Teachers Association at their annual convention in October and assumed office on January 1. Mr. Stahl's duties include presiding at various meetings of ISTA, chairing the annual Leadership Conference in August, assisting in ISTA legislative work, and officially representing ISTA in all regional and national functions of NEA.

Having been a teacher or administrator since 1925, Mr. Stahl came to Manual in 1951 in time to be in on the final planning of the "new" building and to supervise the "big move" in 1953.

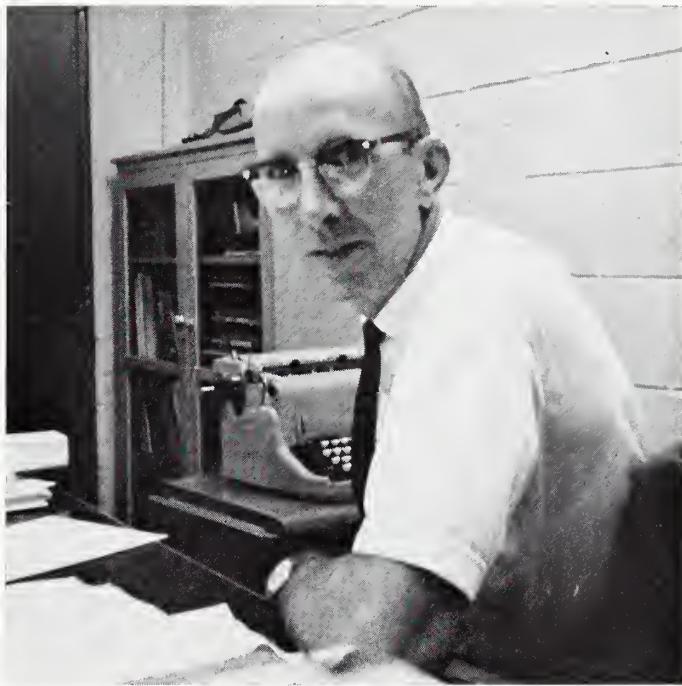

Our 131 faculty members, like Mr. Stahl, are ardent, loyal Redskins. They contribute much to our many moods—sometimes unpleasantly so, but only when we deserve it. We find them helpful and understanding in the classroom, wise and far-sighted as counselors, and fun and often ingenious as directors and guides in activities.

Sometimes we treat teachers as we thoughtlessly do our parents, forgetting to say "thank you"; but perhaps this proves the closeness of the relationship we enjoy with them. We truly appreciate the benefits of their efforts and their judgment.

Mr. Ed Wall, head of the Science Department, pours a second cup of coffee for Mr. Ben Parke, head of Mathematics, in the faculty's hide-away dining room. Here, where it is a bit quieter than in the student cafeteria, teachers lunch.

Mr. Edward Maybury, head of the Industrial Arts Department, pauses for the Ilian cameraman as he works in his office.

We love it when faculty members "ham it up" as this group of "gridders" did for the skit at the pre-Southport-game pep session last fall. We gathered on the inner campus after school while these optimistic teams showed us what was in store for the Cards that night. And they were right!

Richard Cooper Heads '65 Class of 475

Principal C. Edgar Stahl congratulates Richard Cooper as he receives the official gavel as president of the Senior Class, at the class meeting which wound up Senior Day.

Leading this year's Senior Class through its various activities were Nancy Hines, secretary; Richard Cooper, president; Perry Cobb, treasurer; and Diane Eickhoff, vice-president.

As their high school careers sped to a close, seniors looked back in disbelief at the many happenings that seemed to make the year pass so quickly.

The first big event was the election of senior officers. Senior Day found proud members of the "top" class "all dressed up" and sporting red and white roses and Senior Armbands. The day was climaxed by a dance in the cafeteria.

Next came Turnabout Day. Paul Stroud assumed the responsibilities of Principal C. Edgar Stahl, and Esther Sobel and Nancy Norcross assisted him as vice-principals. Many other seniors served as department heads, teachers, and other staff members. The day closed with a tea by the P-TA.

SAT time rolled around in December for many seniors, causing jitters. Christmas found the seniors playing Santa to the freshmen at the annual Freshman-Senior Christmas Party in the cafeteria.

January was enhanced by the Music Department dance, "Winter Wonderland," and a two-day vacation from school, as the theme of the dance became a reality.

Still, the activities came thick and fast, with Sectional, senior pictures, an added snow vacation, and commencement plans causing much excitement.

With March came the busy preparations for Red-skin Revue and the two big "shows," achievement tests, the Pow-Wow, the Senior Class Play, the Senior Square Dance, and the "John Henry Hop."

The year came to a grand finale for the 475 members of the Class of 1965 with Vespers, Class Day, Commencement, and the Senior Prom.

As master-of-ceremonies for the Senior Day Program, a jovial Don Townsend prepares to introduce the entertainment for the after-school party and dance in the Cafeteria.

Reigning over the class's 1964 Junior Prom as its Queen and King, Diane Eickhoff and Jerry Lewis are all smiles as they pose for the Iivan photographer after their coronation.

Juniors 'Ring' in Vacation Mood

Junior Class officers, Bill Taylor, treasurer; Nancy Kidd, president; Connie Goss, secretary; and Ron McBride, vice-president, discuss plans with Mr. Maurice Huckleberry, sponsor.

Enthusiastic about becoming organized, members of the Class of '66 returned in September, ready for more responsibility and added privileges they would receive as "older and wiser" upperclassmen.

Electing officers and ordering rings highlighted the first weeks. Members decorated the traditional Junior Class Christmas Tree in the main hall, and on the last day of school before vacation, our rings arrived! Really special Christmas gifts!

Juniors shone on both the athletic field and in academic pursuits throughout the year. Vice-president Ron McBride helped boost the varsity gridders to a winning football season last fall, and juniors in the top three percent of the class became National Honor Society members in the spring.

All dressed-up and wearing red and white carnations, the class was honored on Junior Day, March 3. During an after-school class meeting, the "Top Ten" of the Junior Class received gold keys.

Climaxing the year was the Junior Prom, in Manual's own Gymnasium for the first time.

A holiday mood prevails as Juniors decorate the big Christmas tree in the main hall, annual gift to Manual of successive junior classes. Partying in the cafeteria closed the festive afternoon.

Tumbling Boys, Pyramiding Girls Spark Yells

Performing feats of acrobatic skill during football and basketball games are Randy Strait, Steve Ernest, and Wayne Mascher. These tumblers add a touch of variety to Manual's cheering squads. Harry Ragsdale was also a cheerster.

Practicing one of their pyramid formations are Reserve Cheerleaders Sally Martz, Susie Robertson, Melinda Beal, Patty Hittle, and Karen Clark. These girls cheer for and travel with Reserve teams to let them know the school's behind them.

'Back Stage' Redskins Keep School 'Oiled'

Mrs. Sarah McKinney, matron, long an ex-officio member of the publications staff, pauses in her work in the Booster Office, when no one else is available, to help out. Here she sells a Sectional derby to Sherri Hale.

Typical of the Cafeteria crew who see that hungry Redskins get good food each day is Mrs. Oma Bell, who for many years has served Manualites such "teenage favorites" as the french fries she is handing to Steve Ellis.

Two big snows caused custodians many backaches. The tractor, shown here driven by Head Custodian James Monson, cleared mounds of snow from walks and parking lots. However, it was back to mops, pails, and elbow grease to get the mudtracked halls back to their usual immaculate condition.

Advertising Puts Us in a Shopping Mood

We Manualites, as citizens of rapidly-growing south-side Indianapolis, are genuinely interested in the services and commodities of our business neighbors, whom we number among our friends and patrons. Many of us have already assumed some shopping responsibilities for ourselves, and our likes and tastes influence much of the buying done by our parents. Our city's many fine stores, with their interestingly displayed and well-advertised "wares" create shopping moods in all of us.

Education Fuses Our Moods into a Mosaic

In a year's time our kaleidoscopic experiences and activities, both educational and "just for fun," truly run the gamut.
They fuse together into a mosaic of moods.
We have studied in the classroom to reach our goals of learning; we have participated in sports to display and use our athletic skills; we have harmonized in music groups to produce melody in our school life; we have attended club meetings to broaden our interests and share our ideas.
If we have done well in our endeavors, we have approached the goals of education—the changing and improving of attitudes. Then we go out into the world with confidence, profiting from the many moods that are part of
